David Phillips taught physical education at Columbiana Middle School for 23 years. He also coached boys' basketball and assisted Coach Dickinson at Shelby County High School. He loved helping students learn to play sports and to active, and he had a gift for teaching that age group with honesty, fairness, and great sense of humor that won them over right away. He could make anybody laugh. Coach Phillips loved the Lord and knew that he had a responsibility to show God's love to the young people under his instruction. Coach Phillips was a willing worker, and did many jobs that were not part of his teaching responsibilities, and did them with a servant's spirit. He loved the middle school and the community of Columbiana. Over the years he came to know most everybody since he taught them, their brothers and sisters, and parents. His death was a tremendous loss to the school and community.

The David Phillips scholarship was created in his memory. It is given to a student who displays the characteristics of honesty, fairness, hard work, and willingness and desire to serve and help others graciously.

Edwin Rush taught “the sciences”—biology, chemistry, physics at Shelby County High in the 1950’s and 1960’s. He was dedicated to Shelby County High School and providing the best educational opportunities for his students. He selflessly gave up his personal time and financial resources to better his school. Mr. Rush was a favorite among the students because of his high standards, commitment to excellence, and warm sense of humor. He treated everyone with respect and dignity. Mr. Rush held high expectations for himself and his students. He challenged his students to work hard in order to achieve success in the classroom because he understood that knowledge and hard work were essential to success in life. He illustrated for his students the value of commitment and working hard to achieve the unachievable. To his students, Edwin Rush was more than a teacher; he was a mentor and role model.

The Edwin Rush Memorial Scholarship was created to honor the legacy of Mr. Rush by recognizing and rewarding academic achievement and potential. The scholarship provides significant financial support towards obtaining a college degree for an individual who has demonstrated determination, persistence and desire in the face of sociological and economic challenges to achieve outstanding results in the classroom and in life.
