Socratic Circle Questions

Ωı	estions of Clarification:	➤ How can you verify or disprove that
_	What do you mean by?	assumption?
	What is your main point?	Why would someone make that
	How does relate to?	assumption?
	Could you restate that, please?	assumption?
	What do you think is the main issue?	Questions about Viewpoints:
	Could you give me an example?	You seem to be approaching this
	How would this be an example	from theperspective. Why?
	of?	➤ Why have you chosen that
\triangleright	What is the opposite side of that	perspective?
	argument?	How would other groups respond?
	Does that make sense in all cases?	Why?
	Explain.	➤ Is there another way to view this?
	Could you explain more about this?	What would someone who disagrees
	How does this relate to what we've	say?
	been talking about?	Is there bias involved? Explain.
		➤ Is that stated with emotional feeling
Qυ	estions that Probe Reasons,	or logical ideas? Explain.
Ev	idence and Causes:	➤ Is someone said How
	Could you explain your reasons?	would you respond?
	How do you know that?	➤ Why is necessary?
	What evidence is there for believing	Who benefits from this?
	that?
>	that? How strong is that argument?	Questions that Probe Implications and
>		Consequences:
	How strong is that argument?	Consequences: ➤ What are you implying?
	How strong is that argument? Explain.	Consequences:What are you implying?How can we find out?
>	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the	Consequences:What are you implying?How can we find out?What does this question assume?
> >	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would
A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen?
A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would
A A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or
A A A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen?
A A A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what
A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain.	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true?
A AA A AA A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences?
A AA A AA A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've
A AA A AA A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing your	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important?
A AA A AA A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important? Would ask this question differently?
	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing your	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important? Would ask this question differently? Is this question easy or hard to
Qu	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing your information/discussion/argument?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important? Would ask this question differently? Is this question easy or hard to answer? Why?
Qu >	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing your information/discussion/argument? Hestions that Probe Assumptions:	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important? Would ask this question differently? Is this question easy or hard to
Quantum Quantum Quantum Quantum A	How strong is that argument? Explain. Is there reason to doubt the evidence? What other information do we need? What would you say to someone who said? How could we go about finding out of that was true? What would change your mind? Might that be true or must that be true? Explain. Why is that happening? On what authority are you basing your information/discussion/argument? Restions that Probe Assumptions:* What assumptions are you making?	 Consequences: What are you implying? How can we find out? What does this question assume? If that happened, what else would happen? Would that necessarily happen or probably happen? If and are the case, then what else must be true? What would be the consequences? How does fit with what we've learned before? Why is important? Would ask this question differently? Is this question easy or hard to answer? Why?

➤ How did you choose those assumptions?