

Character Analysis Extension Menu

Using a graphic organizer, show how a character's actions, thoughts, and speech converge to show a character trait.	Build a playlist of three songs showing a character's growth during a story. Explain how these songs show the character's change over time.	Design the character's room. Each item in the room must reveal an attribute about the character. Consider their change over time. Design this room on paper, create a diorama, or build the room in Google Sketchup.
Use images from Flickr.com to create a montage that demonstrates a main trait of your character.	Scholar's Choice Design a product (get teacher approval first!)	Create a Twitter feed from your character that shows her/her inner thoughts throughout the story. Include at least 10 tweets, but be sure to limit each tweet to 140 characters!
Analyze how a character has a convergence of traits from two other characters in the theme.	Develop a diary or blog for your character. Include at least three entries. Each entry should clearly show the character's change over time.	Write a Shakespearean Sonnet from your character's point of view (iambic pentameter optional!).
